

If you are a master student in

- Agricultural Sciences / Scienze agrarie
- Agro-environmental Sciences / Scienze agroambientali
- Crops and Plant Sciences / Scienze della produzione e protezione delle piante

you can be admitted to a

PATH OF EXCELLENCE

The Path of Excellence is a learning path designed to offer to more deserving and motivated students additional training opportunities through methodological and applicative activities for the enhancement of their skills and the development of a complete personal and professional identity.

Paths of Excellence have the aim of promoting:

- Development of multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary approaches
- Deepening of scientific knowledge
- Technical-practical study and development of professional skills
- Development of soft skills such as critical thinking, leadership, ability to work in a team, ability to deal with different methodologies and approaches to problems

Important deadlines

31st Oct. 2020 Application

1st Dec. 2020 Beginning of the path

What to do now

- Read the call
- Check the asked requisites
- Project your personal path also with the help of one of your teacher
- Write your motivational letter
- Search for any letters of support from university professors and / or researchers from recognized research institutions

Info: poe.disaa@unimi.it